LOCAL BUSINESSES ARE VITAL COMMUNITY PARTNERS

Public broadcasting is supported by a multitude of revenue streams. Federal and state grants, listeners and viewers as individual donors, and businesses of all sizes. WSIU, WUSI, WVSI, WSEC, W2EC & WMEC are no different. Each avenue provides vital funding for our stations to broadcast the quality programming you’ve come to expect. Our corporate support team works to find business sponsors who not only understand the mission of our stations but whose message will resonate with our listeners and viewers. Businesses support public broadcasting because they know the vital role it plays in our communities, enriching lives and providing content not found on any other media source.

Additionally, businesses serve as one of our most valued community partners, helping to fund and support activities across the region that foster community engagement, teacher professional development, and educational opportunities for children and families. The support shown back to businesses is reciprocal.

Our corporate support team consists of Brian Flath and Tracy Hauser in the southern Illinois region (WSIU, WUSI & WWSI), with Jeri Waldeck in the Springfield-area (WSEC, WMEC & WQEC). We thank our current underwriters for their ongoing support and look forward to introducing more businesses to the benefits of supporting public broadcasting. For more information contact Brian Flath (brian.flath@wsiu.org) or visit wsiu.org.

ALEXA, PLAY ‘MORNING EDITION’

Morning Edition is available on-demand on all Alexa-enabled smart speakers. Just say, “Alexa, play Morning Edition,” and you will hear the last hour of that morning’s show as it was aired on WSIU Radio (WUSI 90.3, WSIU 91.9FM, WWSI 88.9FM) or on Illinois Public Media (WUIS 91.9FM) in the Springfield-area. Never worry about missing a story, or tuning in mid-broadcast, because now you can choose when to listen at your own convenience. Learn more about NPR and Alexa at npr.org/listening-to-npr-with-alexa.
FILM SCREENING OFFERS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR COMMUNITY-DRIVEN SOLUTIONS

In partnership with Nonviolent Carbondale’s 11 Days of Peace, WSIU presents a free screening of the Independent Lens film Always in Season on Sun, Feb. 2 at 2:30pm at the Carbondale Public Library. Guests are invited to participate in a community conversation about the social impact of the film. The discussion will be led by Dr. Alfred Frankowski from the SIU Department of Philosophy.

Written by Jacqueline Olive, Always In Season explores the lingering impact of lynching in America and connects this form of historic racial terrorism to racial violence today. The film follows the tragedy of African American teenager Lennon Lacy, who in August 2014, was found hanging from a swing set in Bladenboro, North Carolina. This film chronicles his mother’s quest for the truth and takes a closer look at the lingering impact of more than a century of lynching.

The film was nominated for the 2019 Cinema Eye Honors-Spotlight and the ‘Best Writing’ award by the International Documentary Association. The production was also awarded the Special Jury Award for Moral Urgency at the 2019 Sundance Film Festival. Last fall, our engineers were hard at work preparing the necessary equipment upgrades needed to bring this valuable service into homes across the region. We anticipate the full service will launch in April 2020. Look for more details, including a hard launch date and the updated channel list, in future issues of Previews.

As the only free national 24/7 kids’ TV service in the U.S., the PBS KIDS channel will be a game changer for all families,” says PBS President and CEO Paula A. Kerger. “Especially our nation’s most underserved, many of whom do not attend preschool and rely solely on over-the-air television for media content.”

The service will be available to over-the-air and select cable viewers, however it will not be available to DirecTV, DISH, or AT&T U-verse viewers. We are currently reaching out to cable providers to encourage them to carry the 24/7 PBS KIDS Channel. And, better yet, the channel is currently available as a live stream on pbskids.org and on the free PBS KIDS Video App for smart devices.
